

JOE MOTT'S AWARD WINNING HOT

STAR ALEX SNUBS OLD FLAME Arctic blast

ARCTIC Monkeys front-man Alex Turner's ex-girlfriend has been plaguing him with phone calls.

Since storming to No.1 with I Bet You Look Good On The Dancefloor, the band say women from their past have started coming out of the woodwork.

Guitarist Jamie Cook, 19, said: "There was one that Alex used to go out with."

"One of his friends told her he was in a band now and that we had just got signed. Then she says, 'Oh, can I have his number' and then started calling loads."

He added: "Another one called on the day we went to No.1. 'She went to school with me and Alex. We all lost contact completely after school, and then she pretended she didn't recognise us in the queue for a club a year later.

EXCLUSIVE

"That influenced a song we've got now."

Number

"But when we had a hit, she got Alex's number from someone a few weeks ago."

"So she phones one day and says congratulations and 'text me your number,' we'll have to get together and go out sometime."

"Yeah - right luv, I'm never even going to text you."

The band have just finished a mini tour of America and the Far East and are due to support Franz Ferdinand in Europe.

Alex, left, recently named Coolest Man On The Planet, said: "Then there's a little bit of recording after Christmas, and then next year's pretty hectic."

All this from a band who've only released one single.

Still - it must be quite nice having exes phoning up begging for it.

TAKE THAT... OR NOT

NEWLY-reformed Take That are concerned their tour could be an utter farce.

But Jason admitted: "We're taking big risks. It might be bobbins. It might be a pile of cr*p." And Gary confessed: "I've got a stone to lose before then. If anyone's got a good diet plan, would they send it in?"

Risking death by angry fans, I must admit that I DON'T want them back.

Music's just getting good again. We dispatch Blue and Busted. McFly are waning and then an old boyband goes and reforms.

Oh well... for those of you who don't care what I think, tickets go on sale at 9am on December 2.

WPC: NAIL THIS GANG

BRITAIN'S MOST WANTED: Yusuf Jama

BRITAIN'S MOST WANTED: Mustaf Jama

BRITAIN'S MOST WANTED: Muzzaker Shah

by JERRY LAWTON

THESE are the three men suspected of the murder of rookie policewoman Sharon Beshenivsky.

Police branded them Britain's most wanted men last night and warned the public they are armed and dangerous.

Every officer in the country was ordered to join the hunt for British-born Muzzaker Imtiaz Shah, 24, and Somali brothers Mustaf and Yusuf Jama, who have been granted asylum in Britain.

Detectives named them as prime suspects for the murder of the 38-year-old WPC.

Armed

She was killed as she tried to foil a robbery at a Bradford travel agency last week. Police suspect Shah shot Sharon dead.

The public were warned not to approach the trio. He was already wanted by the Metropolitan force for questioning about another armed robbery.

Mustaf, 25, and Yusuf, 19, were also known to police. All three live in London.

Det Supt Andy Brennan, leading the hunt, said:

GUNNED DOWN: Sharon

"There is no indication at this stage that any of the men have left the country. It is possible they may be in the London area."

"They may be in hiding with someone."

Bradford came to a standstill yesterday during a two-minute silence held exactly one week since the murder.

NO GAYS IN THE VILLAGE

COUNCIL chiefs wasted £3,000 on a gay rights campaign - only to discover there were no gays in the village.

Officials were determined to stamp out discrimination and wanted to offer support.

So Teignbridge District Council in Devon paid researchers to track down gays among the district's population of 120,000 people. But the researchers couldn't find a single one. It means

by IAIN BURCHELL

there are more gays in Llandewi Brefi, home to Little Britain's "only gay in the village" Dafydd - alias comic Matt Lucas, 31.

Councillor David Corney said it was "incredible" the market research company paid to track down minority groups could not find any.

He admitted: "I am concerned that the research was not done properly." Lynn McElheron, Teignbridge's community initiatives manager, said the exercise had now been scrapped. She said: "There was concern that minority groups had not been contacted, but to pursue it would have cost more money."

But the search for the only gay in Teignbridge may not be over. The council is instead coming up with a three-year action plan to help promote equal opportunities.

All councils have to show they are helping minority groups, or they risk losing Government grants.

Revving for a fail

LEARNER drivers are to be checked on how much they know about saving fuel during their L-test.

Over-revving the engine or accelerating and braking too fast on the test could lead to a fail under the new initiative from the Driving Standards Agency.

Horror on mobiles

A HORRIFIED mum heard her daughter killed as they chatted on their mobiles, an Anglesey inquest heard yesterday.

Claire Hughes, 17, died when the car she was in crashed - watched by mum Kathryn who was in another car ahead of her. Verdict: accident.

Boozers hit home

PUBS are losing out as more of us prefer to booze at home.

The number of people visiting pubs more than once a week has fallen by 11% from nearly 6 million in 2004 to 5.4m this year, researchers BRMB revealed yesterday.

Jobcentre bans Xmas party

BARRED HUMBUG

JOBCENTRE staff have been left fuming after Scrooge bosses banned Christmas.

Workers say they have been ordered not to put up decorations or give each other presents because it might offend other faiths.

They've even been told there will be no Christmas party this year.

Staff at the Jobcentre in Peterborough, Cambs, slammed the barny ruling

by PAUL MALLEY

as yet another example of political correctness gone mad.

One worker said: "This is absolutely insane. It has nothing to do with ethnic minorities - they're happy to celebrate Christmas. It's the bosses who are acting like Scrooge."

Another member of staff, a woman in her thirties, added: "People are quite upset about it. We are not even allowed to give each other presents or have a

Political correctness gone mad

NO VACANCY: Santa Claus

COUNCIL bosses were blasted yesterday for blowing £26,000 to send out a leaflet telling residents they cannot recycle Christmas wrapping paper this year.

"It is an absolute scandal," said local councillor Keith House, of Eastleigh, Hants. "The message they should be giving out is to encourage people to buy paper that can be recycled."

A spokesman for council-backed Recycle for Hampshire - which sent the leaflets to 500,000 homes across the county - said the sticky tape, labels and ribbons on discarded gift-wrap meant it was not suitable for recycling.

tree. We are probably banned from eating mince pies for lunch, too."

Abdul Choudhury, chairman of Peterborough Muslim Organisation, said: "To say Muslims may be offended is nonsense. Who are the people making these decisions? They only succeed in getting under the nose of decent people."

Department for Work and Pensions spokeswoman Natalie Jones said: "Such decisions are left to local managers."

No bosses at Peterborough Jobcentre were available for comment.

EXCLUSIVE BY MICK FITZGERALD

(The man who rides)
(Hennessy favourite)

THERE's been a circle around today's date on my calendar for the last four months and I'm certainly aiming to make it a day to remember.

I'll be aboard TRABOLGAN (2.40, Ch4) in the Hennessy Cognac Gold Cup at Newbury - a race that has been my big target ever since I broke a bone in my neck in a fall at Market Rasen in July.

This big race spur was always my goal and I feel absolutely tremendous after landing my first winner since being sidelined on The Market Man at the Berkshire track yesterday.

I couldn't have a better mount than the favourite Trabolgan who has a cracking chance of giving my guv'nor Nicky Henderson his first-ever Hennessy win.

Chasing

Trabolgan adapted well to the chasing game last season when he won twice and finished second in his other two starts in a very encouraging campaign.

I was his pilot at the Cheltenham Festival in March when he turned in his best performance to win by three lengths and the same from Comply Or Die and Cornish Rebel who are both in today's field.

The only downside as far as we are concerned is Trabolgan will be top weight and it's always difficult for any horse to win from that position in the handicap.

But if Trabolgan is going to have a real live chance in the Cheltenham Gold Cup he has got to prove it by going out and winning.

I can see French chaser L'Ami posing quite a threat to my fella in a hotly-contested affair.

My idea of the first four home is : 1, TRABOLGAN, 2, L'Ami, 3, Comply Or Die, 4, Cornish Rebel.

Ouija Board has Cup call

ED DUNLOP is expecting Ouija Board to run a big race in tomorrow's Japan Cup at Tokyo.

"Amazingly she still has her summer coat and her condition appears to be the equal of what it was when she went to New York for the Filly & Mare Turf," said Dunlop.

"We were unfortunate there as there was no pace and the winner enjoyed a soft lead but I'd be disappointed if it wasn't run at a good clip on Sunday."

Ouija Board, who will be ridden by Kieren Fallon, finished second to Intercontinental when bidding for a repeat success in the Breeders' Cup last month on what was only her third start of the season.

"She really does need a mile and a half," said Dunlop. "I think Zenno Rob Roy, last year's winner, is going to be a very hard horse to beat."

Further British hopes rest with Alkaased and Warrsan.

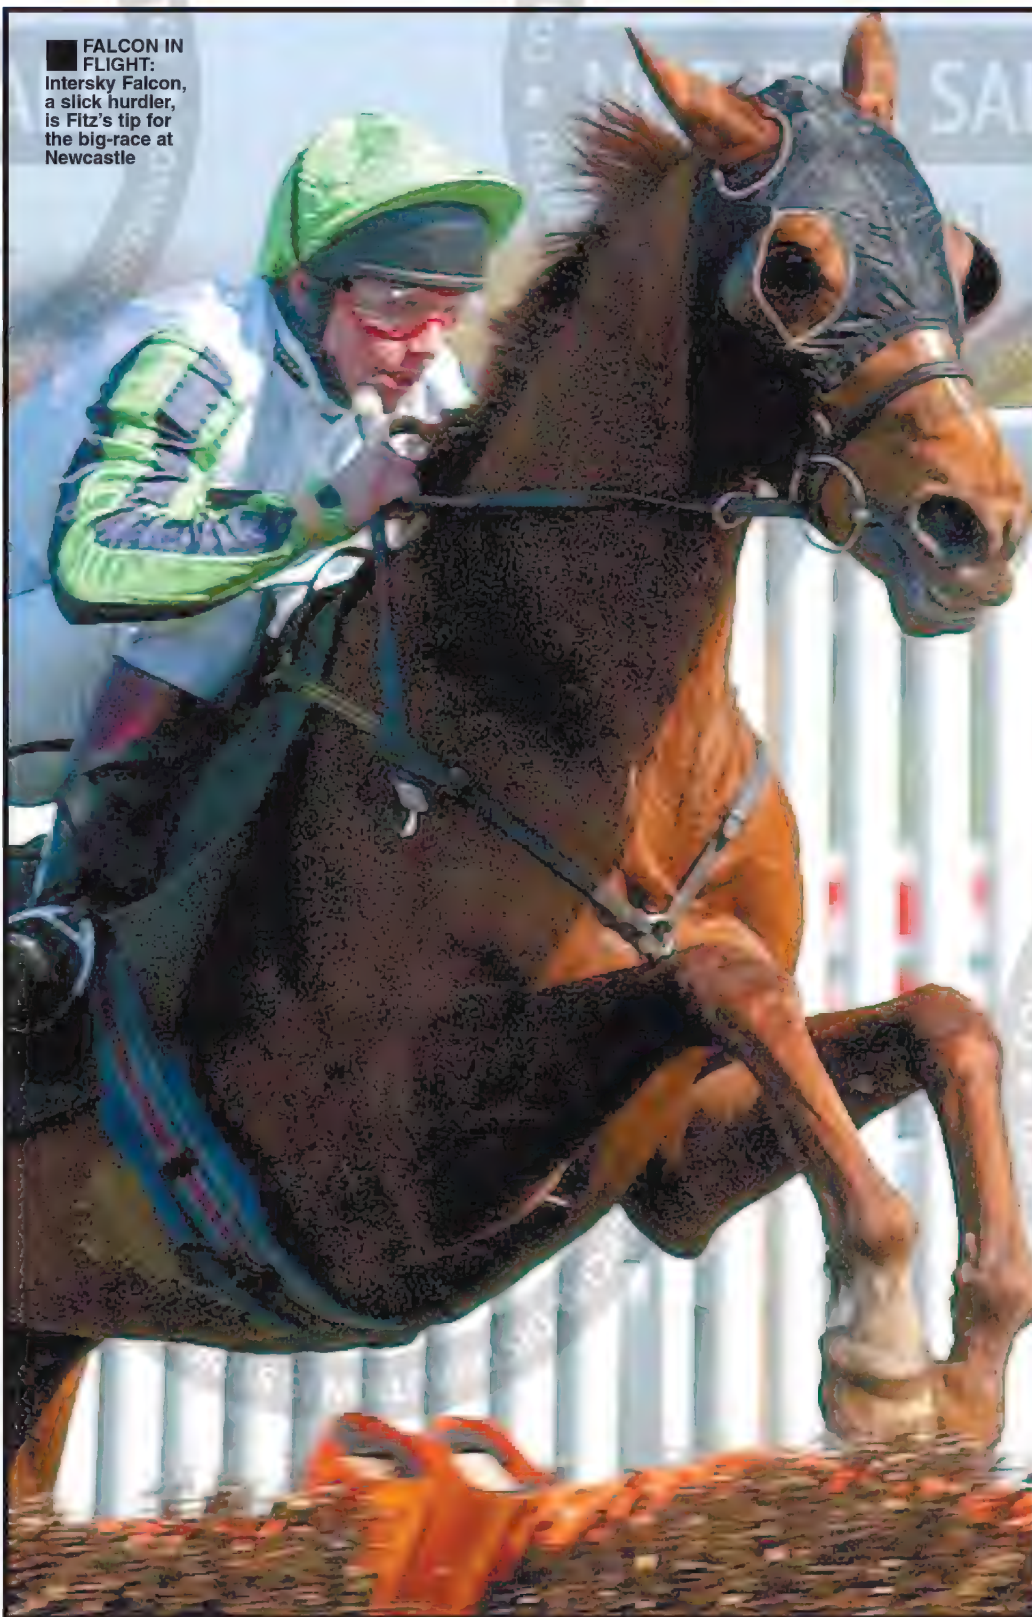

Clive Brittain, who sent out Jupiter Island to win the race 19 years ago, said: "We've given Warrsan less racing and he certainly looks in great nick." Alkaased was forced to give the Arc a swerve when picking up an injury and poor blood count ruled him out of Breeders' Cup.

"Missing out on America means there are less miles on the clock," said trainer Luca Cumani. "I'm looking forward to it and if he produces his turn of foot he should run well."

SKY'S THE LIMIT

Falcon to reach new heights

INTERSKY Falcon is a real class act on his day and I'm expecting him to turn on the style at Newcastle this afternoon.

The Jonjo O'Neill-trained gelding gets my vote to land the £45,000 prize money in the Fighting Fifth Hurdle at the Gosforth Park track (3.30, Ch4).

Intersky Falcon won the 2002 renewal of this race and then finished third to The French Furze the following year.

And his fourth place last year was quite an achievement when you recall that his stable was struck down with a virus.

Fancy

This time I'm expecting him to bounce back to winning ways.

In the other televised race from Gosforth Park, I like the look of LORD MAIZEY (3.00) who my fellow jockey Carl Llewellyn recommended to follow for the season.

Although he hasn't run for two years, Tom Scudamore's mount goes off a very reasonable weight today.

EXCLUSIVE
by Mick Fitzgerald

And I'm taking this resident of the Nigel Twiston-Davies stable to triumph. I'll be riding at Newbury where I fancy my chances on CHAUVINIST (3.15, Ch4) who is looking in excellent shape.

He can lead them all home in the ladbrokes.com Handicap Chase over two and a half miles.

Chauvinist has a very good record on his seasonal debuts and has won over the two-mile hurdles track here.

I am very confident after schooling him earlier this week.

Chauvinist made most of the running when scoring over fences at Sandown at the beginning of the year.

In the first televised race from Newbury I'm going for INGLIS DREVER (2.05) in what looks like being a very tactical contest.

Inglis Drever had speed to win over two miles round Wincanton which is a very sharp track and neither Baracouda, Crystal d'Ainey or Carlys Quest possess that kind of speed.

IT'S JUST HARRY (3.50) beat The Market Man (a winner yesterday) last season and then finished second in the Tolworth Hurdle at Sandown.

Tip-top

Trainer Charles Egerton has a fine record for having his horses fighting fit after an absence and you can be sure that It's Just Harry will be in tip-top condition for the Listed race.

It's Just Harry is a lightly-raced eight-year-old who was an excellent novice hurdler last season with his only defeat from three starts coming in that Tolworth outing.

He's has an excellent chance of success with my mount Afrad, from my guv'nor Nicky Henderson's yard, providing the main danger.

WEIGHT-FOR-IT: Distant Thunder is well treated in the Hennessy

Thunder can storm home

IF you like a punt on I'm A Celebrity, get on Sid Owen at 3-1. He is the only half sensible bloke in the bunch and unless Tony Lewis is jettisoned in as a late replacement, rates a good bet to pay for the Crimbo exes.

DISTANT THUNDER (2.40) is my each-way selection for the Hennessy Cognac Gold Cup Handicap Chase as he has a low weight and has a good record at Newbury.

At that meeting last year, he finished four lengths behind Cornish Rebel at level weights, but is now 16lb better off. On an extended line through the winner, he has the beating of Trabolgan and Comply Or Die.

Distant Thunder hails from the same camp as Kingscliff, so we know the stable is in form.

Strong

One thing we can be assured of in the Pertemps "Fighting Fifth" Hurdle (3.30) over two miles at Newcastle, is a strong early gallop with the likes of Admiral and Genghis in the line-up.

This will expose those who haven't run for a while, such as Arcalis. This will set the race up for a closer, so take one step forward SELF DEFENSE.

The eight-year-old is never at his best at Cheltenham, so we must forgive him his poor effort behind Lingo a fortnight ago.

Emma Lavelle has her horses in great form and on his last run on the Flat, my selection was only three parts of a length behind Day Flight in a Group 3 contest. Self Defense has

Mark Winstanley

some decent form over timber last winter and his best effort came when second off a perch of 143 at Sandown in a 23-runner handicap last January.

That race was strongly run and with his stable mates in such good heart, he looks a corking each-way wager.

Those of you who like a fire-up on the Polytrack at Lingfield could do worse than have a few quid on REMBRANDT

QUALITY (1.00), who lines up for the Betdirect Stakes.

This son Elusive Quality is out of a dam who has thrown winners on the dirt in the States, so is bred to be a lot better on the sand than turf.

Mind you, the colt shaped like a sure-fire scorer on his debut at Newbury in October when fifth to the highly-regarded Shahin in a decent contest.

Straight

He took a keen hold early doors, so the drop back in trip should be ideal.

We have to wait until the Betdirect Maiden (8.00) over six furlongs for the best bet of the day, when HEAVEN KNOWS canters to post.

This Halling offspring went straight to the top of my note book when third from an impossible draw at Doncaster on the last day of the Turf season.

And William Haggas has his All-Weather team in cracking form, landing a nice double the other day.

Culhane makes a 1,000

TONY CULHANE reached a career milestone when he rode his 1,000th domestic winner aboard the Derek Shaw-trained Bazelle at Wolverhampton yesterday.

"Obviously I'm delighted," said Culhane. "It's a great achievement for me and I never thought 20 years ago when I started riding that I would ride 1,000 winners." Culhane, 36, partnered his first winner, Mariners Dream, at Catterick on April 29, 1986, narrowly missed out on reaching the 1,000 at Dunstable Park on Saturday night when he was beaten a head on Greenbelt.

WIN DVD/TV combi

WANT to enjoy a day at the races from the comfort of your front room?

Well you can thanks to your racing-mad Daily Star.

Join legendary jockey Frankie Dettori as he introduces his new DVD game from Universal, Frankie Dettori Race Night.

And we have got a competition to set your mouth watering with a TV/DVD COMBI for the winner plus a copy of the game plus 10 copies of the game for runners-up.

This fun DVD game features 30 races to bet on and fantastic DVD extras making it the perfect ingredient for a fabulous family night in.

STARFORM INGLIS DREVER

is the new top dog in the staying department showing his appreciation for a stamina test when beating Baracouda by 3l in the World Hurdle (Cheltenham 3m gd1/good) in March. He ran below that form when narrowly beaten by Al Eile in a slow-race affair at Aintree in April but returned in excellent heart to comfortably beat Redemption (see 8lb) by 3l (Wetherby 3m1f gd2 hdy/yeilding) in which Crystal D'ainay (same terms) finished about 11l away in 4th. With Howard Johnson's stable beginning to fire now, Inglis Drevier is confidently selected to confirm form with former champion stayer Baracouda who has been off since Cheltenham and has ages against him. Korelo was beaten a total of just under 13l when 5th to Inglis Drevier in the World Hurdle before also running below par behind Monet's Garden at Aintree in April. He posted his best effort last term when progressing from handicap company to run Patriarch Express to a hd at levels (Cheltenham 3m gd2 hdy/soft) in January. Stablemate Mr Cool ran moderately when 12l 4th rec 4lb from No Refuge (Windsor 2m4f gd2 hdy/yeilding) eight days ago, and Carlys Quest is outclassed and out of form.
